

	Notified Advanced Computing (NAC)	Advanced Computing Authorized (ACA)
ECCNs in scope	ECCN 3A090, 4A090, Paragraph (z), except for items designed or marketed for use in a datacenter and meeting the parameters of 3A090.a.	Same as NAC
Eligibility	Exports and reexports of the specified items to Macau and Country Group D:5, and entities headquartered in, or with an ultimate parent headquartered in, Macau and D:5 destinations, wherever located.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of the specified items to Country Groups D:1 or D:4 (except Macau and D:5 destinations)); and Transfers (in-country) of the specified items to Macau and D:5 destinations, and entities headquartered in, or with an ultimate parent headquartered in, Macau or D:5 destinations, wherever located.
Notification to BIS	Yes	No
Other Requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Written purchase order, with an exemption for commercial samples, though commercial samples to certain destinations may be required for notification. Requires certain technical specs for performance capacity For multiple exports or reexports under NAC to the same end user and for the same item(s), only one notification to BIS is required, provided the total dollar value and quantity of the shipments do not exceed the amounts stated on the notification. 	Written purchase order, with an exemption for commercial samples
Restrictions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No exports, reexports, or transfers (in-country) may be made under NAC that are subject to a license requirement under part 744 or 746 of the EAR, except for a license required under § 744.23(a)(3). For ECCNs 5A002.z, 5A004.z, or 5D002.z, the requirements for License Exception ENC must also be met for NAC eligibility. 	Same as NAC
Process	After NAC notification is registered, if BIS has not contacted you in 25 days, then the System for Tracking Export License Applications (STELA) will provide confirmation whether NAC can be used or not for the transaction.	N/A